NEW WARDEN LOSES HIS FIRST HONOR CONVICT

SHORT TERM PRISONER MAKES ESCAPE LAST NIGHT FROM ROAD CAMP

Special to the Bonanza.
RENO, Nev., July 2.—James B. Quinn, a short term convict, escaped from the road gang last night and officers and state police are now scouring the surrounding country in an endeavor to apprehend the prisoner.

Quinn was received at the state prison on May 27, 1912, having been convicted of forgery in Churchill county and received a sentence ranging from one year to 18 months. Shortly after his arrival at the state prison he was made a member of the road gang, which is operating under the honor system inaugurated by former Warden Ray Baker.

Quinn is the first prisoner to escape since Warden Cowing resumed work on the road, and he is the first short termer to violate his word of honor. At the present time Cowing has about 20 convicts employed on the road, the camp being located about seven miles south of this city.

During the time Warden Baker conducted the honor camp he lost but four prisoners, out of a total of 50 at work.

AMUSEMENTS

An unusually strong program will be shown at the Butler theater tonight in the following pictures: "The Katzenjumper Kids," something new in photoplay. This is the first of these famous kids shown in motion pictures and the management announces that this will be one of their regular weekly specials in the future. "A La Française," Page story of an Englishman.

who is in love with a French girl. "Dr. La Fleme's Theory," Vitaphone portrait of vital interest to everyone. "Out of the Night," Essay original and all absorbing drama with a terrible punch.

Tomorrow there is booked "Little Boy Blue," by Lubin, a delightful story that will bring smiles and tears. One touch of nature makes the whole world akin; a smile for the weary, a relief for the gay. Don't miss it. A feature every day this week.
